

NURTURING FUTURES

grow where you want to go

My client MAD is seeking a UI/UX Designer to join their team in South Africa. This is a remote role. MAD is an experienced software development company, working with international clients, local clients that are key players in the industry and start-ups on apps and web platforms that form an integral part of their businesses. As a company founded by developers who are still actively involved in the day-to-day coding, they strive to ensure quality code in everything they do.

Requirements:

- Related Degree,
- 3 years of experience in a similar role,
- Previous e-commerce experience,
- Web and application design,
- Understanding of how to bring to bear analytics and user testing to inform the process, more than proficient in the latest UX and UI design tooling,
- You should love what you do and thrive in a team environment.
- You should get excited about delightful user interface design and smart UX design.
- You should be proficient in Sketch and Figma as well as up to date with tech & design trends across web, mobile & iOS.
